Maryland's campus is more than just a collection of buildings—it's your new home. So take the first steps to making it feel that way. Walk around and get familiar with UMD's must-know places.

MUST-SEE UMD

POINT OF FAILURE

Watch out! Located in the pavement between Shoemaker and LeFrak halls, the lines shooting out from this circle in the pavement point to all of the buildings that existed here at the time of the 1912 fire, two of which were destroyed. According to legend, students who step on the point where the lines intersect won't graduate in four years.

MEMORIAL CHAPEL AND GARDEN OF REFLECTION

Need a quiet moment? Head inside the nondenominational chapel or take a walk through the garden labyrinth. Jot a few thoughts in one of the journals stored under the benches there.

Located under Regents Drive, this tunnel used to attract Terp couples looking for a private smoothing spot.

TESTUDO STATUES

The best-known bronze sculpture is in front of McKeldin Library, but you can rub his nose for good luck anywhere he resides, including the Stamp Student Union and outside the Xfinity Center, SECU Stadium, Gossett Hall, Van Munching Hall and the Riggs Alumni Center.

CULTURAL CENTER

NYUMBURU

The Nyumburu Cultural Center is the hub of AfricanAmerican culture on campus, hosting
musical performances, art exhibits, lectures and more.

MCKELDIN MALL AND ODK FOUNTAIN

From a hammock or the lawn, take in the hustle and bustle on the mall, stretching across 16.28 acres and often cited as the biggest of its kind on a university campus. The fountain in the middle celebrates members of the Omicron Delta Kappa honor society.

This is a Bucket List item!

This campus landmark now includes Jones-Hill House, the high-tech home of Maryland Football, as well as the David Driskell Center celebrating African American art, and the Incentive Awards Program.

Grab lunch (or a scoop of ice cream from the famed Maryland Dairy), study, buy Terp gear or see a movie at the Adele H. Stamp Student Union, a hub for students and visitors alike.

This is a Bucket List item!

JIM HENSON STATUE

Cozy up with Muppets creator, Jim Henson'60, and Kermit the Frog—which Henson created while a UMD student—outside the Stamp Student Union.

SAMUEL RIGGS IV ALUMNI CENTER AND MOXLEY GARDENS

Get acquainted with the Alumni Association at this hub for lifelong Terp pride.

HORNBAKE PLAZA AND FREDERICK DOUGLASS STATUE

A bronze likeness of the Maryland native, orator and abolitionist is surrounded by some of his most inspirational quotes.

WIND TUNNEL

Since 1949, researchers have braved the Glenn L. Martin Wind Tunnel to learn more about aerodynamics. With wind speeds up to 230 miles per hour, the wind tunnel has been instrumental in experiments involving submarines, battleships, missiles, airplanes and more.

CAMPUS FARM

Connect with UMD's roots as the Maryland Agricultural College at our working farm and unconventional classroom, where horses, sheep and dairy cows live just steps away from residence halls and academic buildings.

Traditions link Maryland students from generation to generation—sort of a conga line of Terps. Some of these uniquely UMD experiences live on today, while others have taken their place in university history. Either way, they're what make our university so special.

RUBBING TESTUDO'S NOSE AND LEAVING HIM OFFERINGS It's the quintessential Maryland tradition. Sit outside McKeldin Library for just a minute or two, and you'll see at least a few passersby reach out and rub the nose of the most popular bronze Testudo statue (we have seven!). It's said to bring good luck—as is leaving Testudo offerings during finals. Food, drinks and coins are typical gifts, but furniture, a potted plant and even a robot have been left at Testudo's feet.

THE M The M Circle, a traffic circle featuring a giant floral "M," was a campus landmark since 1976. In 2020, to make way for the light-rail Purple Line, the M scooted just across the street from the original site on Campus Drive. Now students have a new scenic backdrop for selfies and commencement pictures.

SUNBATHING AT THE STADIUM The scorching bleachers at what is now SECU Stadium were a literal hotspot for socializing and sunbathing on sweltering days in the 1970s and '80s.

CLASS WARS/KING OF THE MOUNTAIN Beginning in the days when the University of Maryland was known as the Maryland Agricultural College, first-year students and sophomores took each other on in so-called class wars, attempting feats of physical strength like tug-of-war and "King of the Mountain," in which they climbed a 120-foot water tower on campus.

BEANIES From the 1910s through the 1960s, first-year students were required to wear beanies—"rat caps" for men and "rabbit caps" for women—at all times on campus. They looked as fashionable as they sound.

TRADITIONS

MAY DAY The annual celebration, which spanned 1923–61, included choosing a May queen from the senior class to oversee a day of dancing around the maypole, songs and a pageant or play.

CAMPUS GHOSTS Legend has it that Marie Mount Hall, the Rossborough Inn and Morrill Hall, among other buildings, are all home to ghosts.

TRADITIONS TRADITIONS

FLAG UNFURLING During every home football and men's basketball game, a giant Maryland state flag is unfurled over a section of fans.

51

TRADITIONS TRADITIONS

READING THE DIAMONDBACK AT BASKETBALL GAMES Students have long read (or at least pretended to read) The Diamondback at basketball games when visiting teams are announced. Though the student newspaper is now all-digital, spirit papers are still available for games.

53

TRADITIONS TRADITIONS

TURTLE BOUNCE During every football game, the UMD drum line plays a signature beat that signals it's time for the crowd to stand, cheer and dance.

TRADITIONS TRADITIONS

CANNON Every time Maryland scores at a home game, a cannon fires and the band plays the school's fight songs.

GET PINNED Former UMD President C.D. "Dan" Mote, Jr. (1998-2010) began handing out golden lapel pins to VIPs and other outstanding Terps to show off Maryland spirit. The design was tweaked for successor Wallace D. Loh (2010-20), who began distributing them more widely. President Darryll J. Pines is sticking with the practice, sharing his version with everyone he meets.

Pick your party—or parties. The University of Maryland brings Terps together every year at uniquely fun gatherings. We practically guarantee lifelong memories.

EVENTS EVENTS

My favorite part of Fall Welcome Weekend ...

BIG SHOW AT FALL WELCOME At the start of Maryland's fall athletic season, first-year students learn the lyrics to the Victory Song and other songs in the stands; the Mighty Sound of Maryland marching band, cheerleaders and dance team perform, and the event culminates in a class photo on the field.

EVENTS EVENTS

EVENTS EVENTS

GRAD BASH AND RING CEREMONY Before you graduate, celebrate with music, games and more at the Alumni Association's Grad Bash. At the accompanying Ring Ceremony, pick up your class ring and toast your fellow grads.

My favorite part of Homecoming...

HOMECOMING A comedy show, live music, tailgates and, of course, football are all part of a jam-packed week of fun every fall.

MARYLAND

MARYLAND DAY The last Saturday of every April becomes a celebration of all things UMD. More than 80,000 people across the DMV come to this massive open house of family-friendly activities, performances and exhibitions.

MIDNIGHT MILE Basketball season at Maryland gets started with the Midnight Mile, a tradition started in 1971 by legendary coach Lefty Driesell and revived in 2018. At 11:30 p.m., students join the men's basketball team to take a run around Kehoe Track. Dancing—and pizza-eating—usually ensue.

77 PG EVENTS

QUELCOME Each fall, the LGBTQ+ Equity Center and the campus community host a welcome event for all students, faculty, staff and alums featuring music, food, dancing and LGBTQ+ inclusive resources, organizations and programs.

STAMP ALL-NITER Think all-nighters are just for that paper you put off writing? Every year, the Adele H. Stamp Student Union hosts a late-night party that includes karaoke, movie marathons, student performances, free swag and more.

Cut along this line and hang Testudo on your wall

You'll hear a few traditional songs throughout your time at Maryland. Start practicing the lyrics now!

SONG

FIGHT, FIGHT FOR MARYLAND,

Honor now her name again,
Push up the score,
keep on fighting for more,
FOR MARYLAND, GO TERPS!
And we will fight, fight,
FIGHT for TERRAPINS,

Keep on fighting till we win.
So sing out our song
as we go marching along,
TO VICTORY!

VICTORY SONG

"Maryland,
We're all behind you,
Raise high the black and gold.
For there is nothing half so glorious,
As to see our team victorious.
We've got the steam, Terps,
We've got the team, Terps,
So keep on fighting,
Don't give in!
M-A-R-Y-L-A-N-D,
Maryland will win!"

Congrats! Just by coming to the University of Maryland, you've joined an illustrious group. Lots of Terps have gone on to succeed in entertainment, politics, business, media, sports and more. Now go do some namedropping...

ACE EN THE DAY

A dive into old "M Books" reveals rules and tips for life on campus that are so wildly outdated that you'll be forgiven for suspecting we made these up. We didn't. Along with those snippets, you'll get glimpses of today's University of Maryland experience in all its vibrant, Testudo-loving glory. So take a glance at some of what the next four years have in store for you.

"Girls may have men callers at the dormitory after dinner until 7:30 on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights, on Saturday and Sunday afternoons and on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings until 10:30 P.M."

FROM THE 1953 M BOOK

"To be safe and sure of the best wardrobe, buy carefully and tastefully. Avoid that pale champagne cashmere with rhinestone and pearl trimming and look for easy-to-care-for pullovers to match your skirts. If you aren't sure of the best in college fashions, avoid buying all of your clothes until after you have returned to school for a week or two, and check on what the upper class, experienced gal goes for."

FROM THE 1946 M BOOK

"There will be no smoking at dances, in class room or any other place on campus except in the following:

- Rooms designated for smoking in the dormitories.
 Rest rooms in the class
- 2. Rest rooms in the class buildings. 3. Drug stores."

BACK IN THE DAY AND TODAY

FROM THE 1960 M BOOK

"If you feel the need for nourishment, the lunch room is open from 8 to 4 o'clock. This is a real good place to socialize and show off your dancing talent. The tables can be pushed back at 4 p.m. The jukebox will most likely be busy."

BACK IN THE DAY AND TODAY BACK IN THE DAY AND TODAY

FROM THE 1972 M BOOK

"Eating in a University dining hall is probably the easiest way to plan for meals if you're living on campus. And, if you don't have time to eat, the dining hall will fix you a packed lunch. But don't expect a home cooked meal. Since the food is prepared in huge quantities, quality is lacking. Don't be surprised if you gain weight. The food is starchy, and your meal ticket allows you to eat as much as you want. The food is monotonous, but occasionally there are exceptionally good meals, such as nationality and holiday dinners."
